Homeroom Teacher Comments : Alex is a highly motivated student who participated in class activities with great enthusiasm. He has continued to demonstrate a keen interest in learning and has been able to complete his tasks on time with little help. His comprehension of the topics covered permitted him to display a high level of proficiency provided he stayed on task. Overall, I am pleased with his work this year and am looking forward to seeing more success in the next academic year.

Homeroom Teacher Comments : Alex has demonstrated strong higher-order thinking skills, which are reflected in his outstanding results this semester. He not only shows a solid understanding of all curriculum areas but also picks up new concepts with ease, drawing on skills he has developed over time. However, he would benefit from completing tasks with greater attention to detail to minimise any careless mistakes. Keep up the great work, Alex!
